

ME402 Assessment: “Unit 3 Discussion Questions”

Instruction: Make sure that you complete all the readings in Unit 3 before answering the following questions.

1. What are the desirable characteristics for the database used for decision support systems?
2. What is the role of modeling in supporting decision making?
3. What are the key components of a decision model?
4. What are the components of a decision support system?
5. What is SQL?
6. What are the common types of value models?
7. What are the general guidelines for designing a user-centered dialog subsystem?