Subunit 1.2 – Quickfire Quiz

1. In a constitutional system of checks and balances,
   A. each branch has some authority over others.
   B. each branch is politically dependent upon the others.
   C. there must be lifelong appointments in the judiciary.
   D. the president and Congress must be elected at the same time.

2. The Great Compromise was an agreement between large and small states on the issue of
   A. representation in Congress.
   B. the gradual abolition of slavery.
   C. the structure of the court system.
   D. the method for electing the president.

3. Fill in the blank. Specifically delegated powers granted to the national government in the Constitution are known as ________ powers.
   A. concurrent
   B. implied
   C. inherent
   D. express

4. Constitutional equality and independence of each branch of government is known as
   A. separation of powers.
   B. prohibitions on authority.
   C. checks and balances.
   D. federalism.