Subunit 3.1 – Quickfire Quiz

1. In designing the structure of Congress in the Constitution, the framers anticipated that
   A. the House would be more attentive to the people than the Senate.
   B. the House would be a more elite body that checked the Senate.
   C. members of Congress would eventually become term limited.
   D. the Senate would serve shorter terms than the House.

2. Most congressional races are
   A. closely contested.
   B. not closely contested.
   C. less contested than state elections.
   D. more contested than local elections.

3. Redistricting of congressional district lines occurs
   A. when there is a significant population shift.
   B. when the state legislature enacts the appropriate provisions.
   C. every ten years.
   D. after each presidential election.

4. The real work of Congress is said to be done in
   A. full sessions of Congress.
   B. the legislator’s home.
   C. conference with the president.
   D. committee.